

LAKEHOUSE LORE

Party! Party! Party!

About 90 years ago, James Luther Flanagan and his wife, Maude Forrest had a vision. They bought the Lakehouse land so their family and their descendents would have a place in the country. Somehow he acquired the land on Beaven Lake and so the story began.

In the 1960s, for reasons lost in the mists of time, the family decided to form itself into a club. The James Luther Lakehouse Club was incorporated in 1968.

In 1948, Jan, Reg and Frankie's daughter married Bob Morgan. In 1998 they will have survived 50 years of marriage.

So.....

.....to celebrate all these events, the week of June 27 to July 5 1998, has been chosen as Party Week.

For the next two years you will be receiving this newsletter at odd intervals to learn more about the great PARTY WEEK.

For now, just book your holiday for that week and plan your life so you can be here and be part of the fun.

Save these dates: June 27 - July 5, 1998

Future editions of Lakehouse Lore will include this section written by kids for kids. We will keep you posted on things that kids are doing and other information that concerns us.

I would like to congratulate Logan Drummond and her siblings, Jake and Conor, who managed to keep a business going. They cleaned and painted windows for people for $30 a window. It was a wonderful idea and Logan made it work.

Krista will be following in a long Flanagan tradition starting this fall. She will be attending Lower Canada College (LCC). Cyril Flanagan started the tradition and was a student in the first LCC class. His two sons Peter and David also went there. She will be the first girl from the family ever to attend LCC.

Memory Lane

Bat to the Past

As you can see, there is a lot of controversy about what actually happened since James Luther first had his vision (if he had one). Jan Morgan, noted authoress, has accepted the debatable honour of collecting stories and creating the Official Family Myth and History in honour of our great event.

She waits with batted breath for you to send your pictures, stories, facts, opinions, and other relevant or irrelevant (irreverent) memories or myths so she can create this tome.
